REFERENCE MATERIAL FOR DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION ACT

FISCAL YEAR 1986

INTRODUCTION

The fiscal year 1986 Defense Authorization Act is the largest ever passed both in terms of length and scope. Determining the disposition of particular provisions, even to those intimately familiar with the bill, is a cumbersome process.

The purpose of this compilation is two-fold:

(1) To provide a concise historical summary of the amendments offered in each House during Floor consideration of the Defense Authorization Act for fiscal year 1986; and

(2) To provide a handy cross-reference of the provisions in the Senate bill, the House amendment and the conference report.

FLOOR AMENDMENTS

The following listing describes the amendments offered in the Senate and the House of Representatives during Floor consideration of the Defense authorization bill for fiscal year 1986. The description was taken directly from the House Information Systems' LEGIS service. The sponsor, the date offered, and the disposition are also included.

A HOUSE AMENDMENT HA 225 TO H.R. 1872

Offered by ..... Markey
Date offered ..... June 27, 1985

SUMMARY OF HOUSE ACTION AND AMENDMENTS—Continued

Description ..... An amendment prohibiting production of the 155 millimeter artillery fired atomic projectile. It also limits to numbers in a plan submitted to Congress on 2/4/85 the number of 8 inch artillery fired atomic projectiles (W-79) that may be produced. The W-79 units produced after enactment of this bill may not be produced in the enhanced radiation version, nor may any activity relating to research, development, testing, evaluation, or production of a unit to be inserted into them. It requires that W-79 production especially consider safety. It also requires that replacement of obsolete artillery fired atomic projectiles now in Europe be carried out under NATO agreements made at Montebello, Canada, 10/83.
